

MUSIC STUDENT MURDERED, HER JEWELS STOLEN

Police Hold Slender Thread By Which They Hope To Unravel Mystery Surrounding Slaying Of Louisa Lawson.

New York, Feb. 9.—Police today held one slender thread by which they hoped to unravel the tangled skein of mystery shrouding the murder of beautiful, blonde Louisa Lawson, golden butterfly and music student of Texas.

The man who killed her was a friend, Detective Inspector John P. Coughlin declared—one of the many men who danced about the flame of her charm in the six years since she came from Walnut Springs, Tex., hopeful and ambitious.

In a corner of her Bijou apartment Coughlin found the kit bag she had carried to New York. It, like everything else in the place, had been ransacked. Her jewels, $12,000 in stock certificates in the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit company and her cash, were missing.

Thief Not Motive
Despite this apparent robbery Coughlin today expressed doubt that theft furnished the motive for the crime. Coughlin, grizzled veteran of the "Dot King" case, and almost countless Broadway girl murders, believed he knew the name of the slayer.

Coughlin's theory was based on the statement of Miss Peggy Tompkins, friend of Miss Lawson, and resident of an adjacent apartment.

"I was awake yesterday morning about 3 o'clock just lying in bed," Miss Tompkins told Coughlin. "I heard a rapping on Miss Lawson's door."

"Who is it?" I heard her call.

A voice answered, "The expressman."

He read the telegram sent by the Boy Scouts to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson at the death of her husband and paid a tribute to the life of the war president.

At 8:15 the boys renewed their vows by again taking the Scout oath. This was an hour set for Scouts all over the United States to take the oath.

He declares that his business has been damaged in the amount claimed.

PLAN TO RESUME FULL RELATIONS WITH MEXICANS

President Is Considering Names For Appointment As Ambassador.

Washington, Feb. 9.—President Coolidge is preparing to resume full diplomatic relations with Mexico.

Within the next two weeks he is expected to appoint an ambassador to Mexico City, and two Americans to represent this government on the two claim commission recently ratified by the senates of both countries.

Selection of the members of the claims commission is expected to come first. Some difficulty is being experienced in selecting the man for the ambassadorship.

The Oregon government will announce its ambassador to Washington, and designate its claims representatives at the same time. Ramon Ross, one of the two Mexicans who participated in last summer's conference, probably will be Mexico's envoy.

Several of the candidates urged on the White House have eliminated themselves because of a disinclination to enter the diplomatic service. These include Charles D. Warren and John Barton Payne, who negotiated recognition last fall, and R. B. Croager, Republican national committeeman from Texas.

John Hays Hammond, millionaire mining engineer, has stated he would not serve because of his holdings in Mexico.

SALEM PLANT MAKING ELECTRIC WASHERS

Justice Machine Co. Manufactures Washing Machines At Penn St. Plant; Now Working On a Newer Type.

(By H. P. BRAMAN)
There is one necessity that confronts the civilized world—that is the need of clean clothes. How those clothes are washed depends mostly on the household. Each morning's wash of thousands of mothers, wives and sisters in Salem wash the garments of the family by many and various ways. Some do it the old-fashioned way.

To the housewife there is one easy way to wash. That is through the medium of the electric driven washer that requires no energy to either wash or ring the clothes and makes wash day for everyone a pleasure in ease and comfort. Last November there came along several wide awake hustlers and took over the Justice Machine Co. changed its name to the Justice Machine Co. and are now putting out not only a high class machine with (Continued on fifth page.)

PRIEST, ARRESTED, CLAIMS ARNSTEIN GOT HIS $20,000

Alleged Confederate, Held In Big Swindle, Says He Was Victim.

WARRANTS CHARGE FALSE PRETENSE

Arnstein Lived In Salem Short Time, Keeping Residence Secret.

Youngstown, Feb. 9.—Charged with being a confederate of Jules P. (Nicky) Arnstein and Charles (Punk) Drucker in a $48,290 "wire tapping" swindle here a year and a half ago, Nicholas Podlasky, who was arrested in Warren, declared today that he himself had been victimized to the extent of $20,000.

Warrants charging obtaining money by false pretenses have been sworn out against Arnstein, Drucker, Podlasky and two others, whose names are not known by M. W. Kashmerick of Johnstown, Pa.

Podlasky, who is said to be a Greek Orthodox priest, has retained State Senator H. P. McCoy as his attorney. In a statement to Police Inspector Albert T. Jenkins, Podlasky denied he was connected with the alleged swindle, and described how he also had been victimized.

Identifies Nicky

Kashmerick declared Podlasky introduced him and his brother-in-law John W. Lutsky, to two men whom they later identified through photographs as Arnstein and Drucker. They placed bets on races with the men and won the first few times. Just before the final cleanup, Kashmerick said, when they were about to collect $167,000 in supposed winnings, a fake police raid was staged and the men identified as Arnstein and Drucker disappeared.

Kashmerick said his friends in Roswell, Pa., who had advanced money to him, refused to believe his story of the swindle and had him arrested when he came home broke. He was finally released when no criminal action could be proved against him, he said.

Dispatches from New York today said Arnstein was not at his home. Arnstein is under indictment in New York as the master mind in an alleged conspiracy to market millions in stolen bonds. He has been convicted in Washington, D. C., on a charge of conspiring to bring the proceeds of stolen bonds into the District of Columbia.

Arnstein's dealings in Youngstown came to the attention of Salem people when he came here to spend some time at the home of an alleged accomplice, who later died. It is said that he maintained his residence here secretly while he was operating his alleged swindle game in Youngstown.

ANDERSON GIVEN SENTENCE TO PEN

Anto-Saloon League Head Must Serve One To Two Years, Says Judge.

New York, Feb. 9.—William H. Anderson must go to Sing Sing prison from one to two years for forging the books of the state Anti-Saloon League of which he is superintendent, unless his conviction by a jury on Jan. 29 is reversed on appeal.

In imposing sentence today, Supreme Court Justice Tompkins said: "This crime was deliberately committed" and aggravated by some of his testimony which was obviously untrue.

The sentence followed an impassioned plea for clemency by former Gov. Charles S. Whitman, Anderson's chief counsel, and an appeal by Ferdinand Pecora, assistant district attorney, that the punishment "be such as to satisfy the public that justice has been done and that the law is not a respecter of persons."

Anderson was freed on $5,000 bail on a stay of execution to permit Mr. Whitman to seek a certificate of reasonable doubt, which the trial court refused to give. Arguments for a certificate will be heard by the court on Feb. 15.

As he left the court room, Anderson was served with papers in a $105,000 libel suit brought against the league of which he still is superintendent, by Francis Corvett of Corning, N. Y., who has accused the league of having libeled him in literature distributed throughout the district in which he was a candidate for the state assembly in 1922.

MANY GOVERNORS DO NOT APPROVE GAS EXECUTIONS

Experiment In Nevada Is Slow And Painful, One Governor Thinks.

Nevada, pioneer in lethal gas executions, stood virtually alone today as an advocate of the new method of exacting the life penalty from condemned criminals.

Opinions gathered by International News Service from governors and high state officials show no disposition in other states to follow in the path Nevada blazed yesterday when Governor McCray, when gassed to death.

"Not without some elements of inhumanity"—"an uncertain experiment"—"slow and painful"—are the opinions expressed today by some chief executives.

For the most part there was uncertainty on the part of the officials as to what actually occurred in the death house in the prison yard at Carson City when the Chinese murderer was sprayed with the deadly hydro-cyanic gas. Authorities of other states are awaiting more complete scientific verdicts.

"There is grave doubt as to the quickness with which death came to the Chinese," said Governor McCray of Indiana. "From press reports I think the experiment on Gee Jon was not without some elements of inhumanity. The Indiana law provides for electrocution which is as quick a way of destroying life as has been discovered."

Governor Trapp, of Oklahoma, "absolutely does not approve of lethal gas executions. While I do not oppose capital punishment," he said, "I do not approve of experimenting with new uncertain methods."

In Texas where electrocution was practiced for the first time yesterday to execute five negroes, Acting Governor Davis presumed "lethal gas and electrocution are the two most humane ways of administering capital punishment."

FRANCE REVEALS PLOT TO STEAL AIRPLANE PLANS

According to the police a "vast organization of spies" has been unearthed, the system extending to Neuport and other factories.

MILITIA CALLED TO QUELL RIOT; OFFICERS SHOT

Men Barricaded In Hospital Exchange Shots As Klansmen Surround Them Following Riots In Liquor Raids.

Herrin, Ill., Feb. 9.—Eight heavily armed men, led by Ora Thomas, said to be a member of the St. Louis "Eggs Rats," today were barricaded in the Herrin hospital which was surrounded by members of Co. K, 130th Illinois National Guard, determined to resist all attempts to place them under arrest, on a charge of shooting to death Constable Caesar Cagle last night, according to S. Glenn Young, leader of recent liquor raids, and who early today laid siege to the hospital with a party of klansmen until the troops arrived.

More than 75 shots were exchanged between the men in the hospital and the soldiers early today. When the troops arrived they surrounded the hospital and allowed no one to leave or enter.

Young charged the killing of Cagle, whom he termed an official law-enforcing officer, was a "cold blooded murder."

Cagle was summoned to come to town and was shot down from ambulance, Young said.

Blames Sheriff
In the melee that followed John Layman was shot by mistake.

The men who shot Cagle took Layman to the hospital and while they were there the building was surrounded by klansmen, according to Young who is paid commissary of the Klan which has been after law violators in the county.

"We secured warrants charging the men in the hospital with first degree murder," Young said, "but when officers started to serve them they were fired upon."

Young is claiming that Sheriff George Galligan, who was not in sympathy with the Klan's raids, had deputized more than 200 men in the county and that eight men including Layman who were in the hospital were among these special deputies.

Herrin, Ill., Feb. 9.—Troops of six National guard companies ordered to Herrin again to place this little military town and center of sudden and deadly trouble under military rule were arriving early today.

The outbreak in Williamson county, which again has divided the district into sharply hostile camps, climaxed last night with the slaying of Constable Caesar Cagle, Klan leader and dry raider, the serious wounding of Deputy Sheriff John Layman and the kidnapping of three Herrin policemen—John Ford, Assistant Chief, Grain and Frank Stephens.

The trouble started, according to reports, with a police attempt to break up an anti-Klan meeting. Members of the police force engaged in one raid and the subsequent shooting have been rushed out of the county, according to Sheriff George Galligan, who said their lynching was feared.

The sheriff and Deputy Layman were attending a meeting at the Rome club, where, according to Galligan, he was attempting to stop a threatened outbreak against reformers.

Herrin police were rushed to the meeting, the sheriff said. Deputy Layman was shot and seriously wounded when he protested. (Continued on eighth page.)

Specialization Criticized

The president of Carnegie Institute of Technology in a recent address stated that educators will never find a system of education that will meet the need of the times.

"College and school executives," said Dr. Thomas, "are so caught up in a maze of administrative details that they are in danger of building up systems rather than strengthening abilities."

In the view of this thinker the education work, and that the public expects of the colleges training in too many kinds of vocations.

From the scope of his criticism he does not exclude the technical schools, in which, he avers, we could well add to throw overboard some of our specialties and focus our efforts upon teaching more thoroughly the subjects that are essential in the training of an engineer.

There is truth and value in these observations. There is, unquestionably, too much superficial education, not enough abstract scientific study; the cream of education is too thinly spread. But evolution here, as in all things, is taking its ordered way. We are learning, and improving. No man can deny that, in the case of the common schools, for instance, they are not infinitely better than they were even a dozen years ago. Neither can any man deny that the colleges are turning out a goodly number of men and women annually who are properly fitted to enter upon the duties of life in its manifold spheres of activity. This is vastly more true than of any other period our educational history.

But it is well enough to call attention to apparent, or real, weakness in the structure of the educational system. This assists evolution, is a part of evolution toward better and better conditions.

The keynote of progress in this direction must be, as pointed out by Dr. Thomas, simplification. That is, we must seek to discover the bent and adaptability of the individual student and give them fullest encouragement and opportunity for development.

Has a String To It, THE British recognition of the Russian soviet government turns out to be carrying a number of conditional clauses. Great Britain acknowledges that the soviets are in control of the country. But she declines to restore relations of the free and formal order, usual between friendly nations until Englishmen are reimbursed for losses suffered in Russia. English ships are given fair treatment in Russian ports, there is a settlement of the question as to which of the old treaties with the czarist government are to be retained and which to be annulled. So Moscow has something to work for. Only if it satisfies Great Britain in all these matters will other nations grant recognition.

Dr. HUMPHREY Radiantfire

This is one of our popular designs of this popular line of gas stoves. White enameled, it makes a durable and very attractive bath room stove. If you need one to take the chill from the bathroom or some other spot that's a little chilly, you'll find it's the kind for the job.

And this larger number is good for your living room as it will heat a good big space as many of our customers who use them can testify. These Radiantfires are the originals of all this type of stoves and their "basic patent" guarantee results that can be attained by them alone. We challenge comparison on these five points: Economy of gas. Perfect combustion. Heat radiated. Correct construction. We're satisfied. That if you'll try one of these stoves you'll be right glad you chose the one you did, and so will we.

County Health Statistics
Given In Monthly Report

By M. K. ZIMMERMAN

Lisbon, Feb. 9.—One person between the ages of 100 and 105 died in Columbiana county during January and not one child died who was between the ages of five and 19 years, according to the January health report just compiled by Dr. T. T. Church, county health commissioner. One person also died between the ages of 50 and 100 years, eight between the ages of 30 to 50 years and eight between the ages of 70 to 80 years.

Nine persons died between the ages of 50 to 70 years and only one between the ages of 50 to 60 years. Two died between the ages of 40 and 50 years, and only three deaths were reported between the ages of 30 to 40 years. One child died between the age of one and five years and two babies less than one year old died. The record shows but two stillborn during the month of January.

Only two died of pneumonia during January and one death is attributed to tuberculosis.

Diphtheria has been eliminated from Knox township, the county health commissioner has been informed, following a complete survey of that township.

However 11 cases of scarlet fever developed in the county during January, one in Columbiana, two in Leontonia and Leontonia each, two in Fairfield township and two cases each in Hanover, unity and Liverpool townships and one case in Madison township.

Four cases of diphtheria have been reported in Butler township and five such cases have been located in Salem township. In Salem township two cases of tuberculosis have been reported and one similar case in Hanover township. Only two cases of whooping cough were reported during January. In Perry township five were found. There is one case of pneumonia in Perry township, according to the report just issued.

"To register a child's birth may save its life," Health Commissioner Church has explained. "To register the birth of the child promptly may also save its health, liberty and property. If parents do not know that the child's birth is recorded, they should show enough interest in the future welfare of their children to see to it that such registration is made and as quickly after birth as possible."

"Whenever the name of a child is registered, this office sends to the parents of the child a book of health and on the inside cover of this book is a place for the record of the birth of the child and other important events. The name of every baby should be registered within two weeks after it is born," Dr. Church has declared.

Births of the following children were made a matter of record in the office of the county health commissioner:

SERIES OF RISK QUESTIONS ASKED BY FIRE MARSHAL

Ohio Marshal Wonders What People Would Do If Awakened In Fire.

Columbus, Feb. 9.—Have you ever thought about what you would do in case you were awakened from a sound sleep and found your home a blazing furnace?

This question was asked today by Louis F. Miller, state fire marshal. What would you do first? How would you get your family out? Would you throw about them blankets, quilts or extra clothing in case a blizzard was raging outside, and a blizzard was few and far between? These and other questions are asked by Miller.

Have you ever given a thought to the proper arrangement of your clothing when you retire, or how others in the family dispose of theirs? The state official points out two rules that stand out prominently in case of home fires. They are:

First—Get the people out safely. Second—See that they are warmly clothed and are taken to shelter immediately. Do not forget to save all bedding whenever possible.

As you leave the house close every door and window. Clothing should be so disposed of that one sweep of the hands will gather up all or most of it in an emergency.

Many families are practicing fire drills. It is an excellent thing to do, Miller observes. Decide what part each person under the roof is to play in case of fire. Figure all the ways that flames might invade the house and just what you are going to do if the fire is in the attic hall, stairway or sleeping room. Plan what goods you would want most to save, after the family is safe.

Bottles filled with baking soda water as a portable fire extinguisher should be on every floor.

"One practical advocate of fire prevention we know," Miller said, "has a regular fire drill at his home. When ever he gives the alarm, the youngster runs directly to his father, his mother goes to the telephone to turn in the alarm and the maid starts for the nearest fire alarm box. As soon as the child is in place of safety and the alarm turned in, each has his precise duties as regards the chemical fire extinguishers, the part of sand and the ladder, the home fighting device."

Do you know where the nearest alarm box is and how to turn in a fire alarm? If not, learn today. Every person, before retiring, should have a knowledge of the location of doors, stairways and other means of egress. Close doors behind you. If there is much smoke, crawl with your head close to the floor, where the air is purer. Have a wet towel to place over the nose and mouth, if necessary.

Never use key locks on bedroom doors at night. Use only straight shooting bolts. Keep heavy furniture away from the door. See that windows are in good order and raise easily. A little delay may mean death. Do not attempt to go back into a burning building after you have left it, except to save life.

You can help to hold back the flames until the arrival of the firemen. There is always water. There are buckets and dippers, pails and faucets. Every family in a small town or hamlet should see to it that there is a full bucket of water on each floor, containing a solution of baking soda, four ounces to the gallon.

Never use water on gasoline or oil. Miller admonishes in closing. Earth or sand is safe. Handfuls of dry soil can be dashed on an oil fire and a gas blanket thus made that shuts off the oxygen from the blaze. A good garden hose, ready for use, is good home fire protection and has extinguished many a fire.

MAKING ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINES

an iron bound guarantee on their product, but it is the cheapest machine of its kind that can be purchased.

The modest little factory on Penn st. is the home of a power driven "do-it" type machine that is guaranteed to wash clothes thoroughly in 20 minutes and will not tear clothes of the finest fabrics.

Engineers of the company are working on a power type, one of the most revolutionary kinds of washers ever put out, absolutely safe for no current comes near the person, a quick washer, a ringer that moves all over the washer and it will be a worm geared machine.

This new product is to be sold soon. Meanwhile the present type which has proved so popular will continue to be sold in large quantities. This model will be kept owing to its popularity.

Salesmen sell direct to the homes in Salem. There are several salesmen in towns near here and this territory for 100 miles is being worked very thoroughly.

Salesmen are in charge of James P. Partlow, vice president and general manager, who is one of the owners of the company. He has helped build up the company in six months to a point where the future looks very bright owing to the large number of orders that are coming in.

It is a case of another Salem industry in the making. Salem will boost the Justice Electric washing machine that gives "justice" to all who use them.

Other officers of the company are E. C. Castle, president, and A. T. Beal, secretary and treasurer.

Save Power Where Power is Produced

TO A CERTAIN degree, all motor oils burn away with each explosion of your motor. The oil with the highest fire-resistant test burns away least, and separates best the surfaces of your motor which tend to rub.

Upon this separating film of oil, depends two things—the ease with which a motor turns over, and the amount of power which "leaks" past your piston. Upon both of these conditions, depends the amount of power delivered to the rear wheels —all other conditions being equal.

This chain of facts explains why users of FREEDOM Perfect Motor Oil notice increased power on the hills; why they notice a quicker "get-a-way." FREEDOM Perfect Motor Oil has an exceptionally high heat and fire test. It reduces friction, maintains an oil seal and saves power where power is produced.

Ask your dealer for Freedom Perfect. Buy power as well as protection.

Freedom Cylinders and Engine Oils for factory use are of the same high quality as Freedom Motor Oils.

CROP OF HOLDOUTS IN MAJOR LEAGUES CAUSING CONCERN

New York, Feb. 9. — Though the season be early enough as to be a most premature, the holdouts that bloom in the spring, trials, are giving every evidence of developing a fine old bumper crop.

Not a member of the world's champion Yankees, with the exception of the hold-over George H. Ruth, has deigned to disfigure that dotted line to date and it is reasonable to assume that some of these diffident young men are highly affected by what the letter carrier brought.

The crop, however, is not confined altogether to known and recognized stars. At least four youths who never tossed a ball around a major league park, have let it be known in their drol way that they will not leave their prosperous third interests in cigar stands and what-not for the money offered them.

Wayland Dean, said to have been bought by the Giants from Louisville for $50,000, has snuffed a disdainful snuff at the figures offered him by McGraw and forthwith returned his contract unsigned. No action has been taken on Wayland's case at this writing. Howard Baldwin, former New York pitcher, is another Giant recalcitrant. He wants a cut of the purchase price and will get it like Ponzi got his liberty.

Ernest Mann of Wichita, is a third. He was sold to the Giants by Frank Isbell, who in a weak moment referred to the young man as "another Avatty." Perhaps Ernest thinks his salary should conform accordingly.

Other Holdout
Another young man with old ideas is Dudley Lee, whom the Red Sox expect to play shortstop next season with considerable credit having paid Tulsa some $50,000 for the privilege. Lee says he is "not interested" in the figures quoted. He seems to be under the impression that the Red Sox misplaced the date of the year in his salary column.

Charley Hollocher, the Cub shortstop, is also uttering the cry of the holdout calling its mate. He wants the Chicago club to pay him some $4,000 back salary for games in which he declined to appear after deserting the club in mid-season last year. Bill Veeck of Chicago, has informed Hollocher that he is talking through the crown of his pearl-gray Fedora and there the matter rests for the moment.

Three other Giants are listed as holdouts simply because their silence has become somewhat oppressive. They are Ross Young, star outfielder; Frank Snyder, first-string catcher; and Ralph Shimmers, star outfielder. Just what Shimmers may have to blurt about is not known.

Young, of course, rates a substantial increase and will get it but Snyder, never a meteor, showed down to a saunter last season and could not have expected any John T. King to come into his life this year.

COLUMBIANA HIGH CAGE TEAMS PLAY IN SALEM TONIGHT

Tonight will tell how much an enforced layoff from practice by the Boys and Girls teams of Salem High school will affect their chances at winning what would otherwise be regarded as fairly easy games.

Some days ago when the lake of water first started to cover the floor Coaches Robinson and Richtman had to pass up practice. Since that time there have been practices now and then, but not many hours have been put in.

There are times when such layoffs do more good than harm. It comes at the times when teams have a tendency to be stale, or some players are that way, however, such was probably not the case in this instance, but the coaches are hoping that the non-practice period will not go too hard on the teams.

Both coaches have been staging intensive work this week, and report that their squads are in much better shape than for some time. The Girl will go into the Columbian game to night heavy favorites by virtue of their two wins so far over the Red and White.

The Salem Boys have one game on the Columbian team and expect to repeat. Providing that the water keeps off the floor Richtman's team ought to finish this season in the top division and that speaks well for a fairly green team.

The first game is at 7:30 in the gym.

SMOKES ONE FAG 27 MINUTES AND TAKES MARATHON

London, Feb. 9. — The craze for marathon contests is unending.

Mrs. Peggy Ford, Manchester, has just annexed the title of Female Marathon Cigarette Smoking Champion of the World.

Mrs. Ford gained her title by smoking one cigarette for 27 minutes, 15 seconds, without removing the cigarette from her mouth or even knocking the ash off.

Nine girls competed in the championship. They were each given one cigarette and one match. At the word "Go!" from the starter the matches were struck and nine cigarettes began to burn, and from thence none of the girls was allowed to touch the cigarette. The one who smoked longest was winner and Mrs. Ford kept at her puffing until she had won the title and her lips were singed.

Things to Know About Our Service

The public utilities supplying gas, electricity and telephone service are represented in this picture.

What is a Public Utility?

The companies that provide electric, gas, telegraph, telephone, street car and water supply service, etc., are public utilities—public servants regulated by law.

A public utility must serve everybody alike. It can refuse no one. It must deal with all on equal terms—and usually these are fixed by the state commission or subject to its approval.

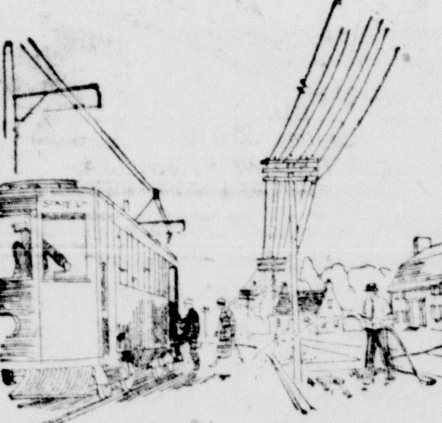

The service is so vital to life and progress that it must be continuous and uninterrupted regardless of profit or loss to the operating company.

Public utilities are owned by the people through a vast army of stockholders and controlled by the people through the state regulating bodies.

Verily this is a business of the people, by the people, for the people.

Ex-Soldiers Column

Conducted By American Legion Executive Committee

At the regular meeting of the Charles H. Corey Post American Legion on Monday night the campaign for new members is going to be put underway. Every man who served in the late World war is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

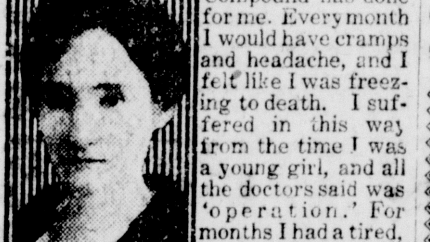

It is my earnest desire to have enough men who are eligible to join with us in our work here to do so now, that we can safely say that we have a true representation of the thought of all the ex-servicemen of Salem guiding our local policies. We have no doubt made mistakes in the past but right here, allow me to say that each and everyone of us feel that the things we are fostering and have fostered are of such a nature that they are wholly commendable. Our way of doing them may perhaps have been rather different but our hearts were in our work.

What we want is you fellows who are on the outside for some reason or other, to come in with us and help us fight for the right in the right way. Don't stay on the outside and knock but come and put your shoulder to the wheel and help, then there will be

SUFFERED SINCE YOUNG GIRL.

Words Failed to Express Benefit Received from Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Texas. — "Words cannot express how much good Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Every month I would have cramps and headache, and I felt like I was freezing to death. I suffered in this way from the time I was a young girl, and all the doctors said was 'operation.' For months I had a tired, sleepy feeling all day, and when night would come I would be so nervous I couldn't stay in bed. Our druggist recommended the Vegetable Compound to my husband and he bought four bottles. I have taken every one and I think I have a right to praise your medicine." — Mrs. J. B. HOLLEMAN, 224 E. Marshal Street, Greenville, Texas.

For fifty years Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound has been used by women from girlhood through middle age. It is a dependable medicine for troubles common to women. Such symptoms as Mrs. Holleman had are relieved by correcting the cause of the trouble. For sale by druggists everywhere.

MILITIA CALLED

stable Caesar Cagle was in front of the Jefferson hotel, according to the sheriff's account, when a crowd of men rushed upon him, firing. He fell dead.

Figured In Raids

Cagle was prominently identified with the Klan and had figured in a sensational series of raids led by S. Glenn Young, Klan raider, whose activities among foreign-born residents of Williamson county led to a protest to Ambassador Janss and at Washington, asking protection for French citizens whose homes, it was charged, have been wantonly despoiled by raiders under guise of search for liquor.

Sheriff Galligan, whose protest to Gov. Small led to ordering of state troops a month ago, again asked for military protection. Gov. Small ordered Adjutant General Black, of Springfield, to rush all necessary guardsmen to Herrin.

The appointment of policemen in Herrin to further reform movements in the fervid little town was brought about as one of the conditions of removal of state troops sent into Williamson county following trouble growing out of wholesale dry raids several weeks ago.

Herrin was the scene of the killing of a score of miners during strike troubles two years ago. Clashes between dry officers, Klansmen who volunteered as assistants, and residents whose homes were raided were the basis of the recent troubles.
